Newmarket's Rowley Mile Racecourse is synonymous with world class sporting action, its historic turf having been graced by countless equine superstars over the last 350 years.

This "world class" theme is one that we have taken into all parts of our business and none more so than with our in-house banqueting and catering operation, where we pride ourselves on the outstanding quality of our food, presentation and service.

We have brand new menus packed with culinary delights created by our outstanding head chef, offering more variety, choice and value than ever before with the emphasis wherever possible on locally-sourced, seasonal foods. We use only the finest and freshest ingredients to create thought-provoking dishes, served with impeccable style.

On major racedays our highly experienced team is used to catering for several thousand people in a variety of locations around the racecourse, so handling everything from a large wedding, gala dinner dance or office Christmas party to a small birthday party, business lunch or select dinner on a day when we are not racing is no problem at all.
